

POLICE COURT

Police Judge Monsarrat had fifty-three cases to try this morning, but at the request of Attorney C. F. Chillingworth, thirty-five Chinese, who were arrested last night by Chief of Detectives McDuffie and his men, had their cases postponed until September 22 when it is expected, the defendants will plead guilty.

The Chinese were caught playing palkan in a house on Mauna street near Hotel. They were not aware of the arrival of the Big Chief, but when the police signal was given by the guard, one of the players, tried to grab the money on the table. Chief McDuffie was too quick for him, and he soon had the man arrested and the money taken from the table. This is the only evidence which the officers have against the Chinese.

A. H. Dondero, who violated the county ordinance covering the automobile speed, was represented by Attorney Davis, who had his case postponed for a week. Dondero was in court before on a similar charge and it is likely that he will be fined more severely.

L. H. Richley, who was pulled in for the same offense asked for a bill of particulars. He stated that he did not remember whether he was out that day in his machine or not. But when informed by the prosecution that he was out near the Pua Lane at Palama, about twelve in the afternoon, he admitted that he was in that vicinity at that particular hour. He pleaded guilty and was fined ten dollars and costs of court.

Judge Monsarrat a few weeks ago paid his fine of fifteen dollars and departed. He looked at the motorcycle officer quite seriously and walked out of the court room.

Martin Grane, a Russian interpreter in Judge Monsarrat's court, who believed that his machine was unmanageable at the time, pleaded guilty and paid ten dollars for his pilikia.

Willie Cliney, appearing for the second time, was sentenced to pay a fine of fifteen dollars. He was under the suspension of sentence on a similar charge. H. Taylor and H. C. Bailey, who are both strangers in Honolulu, each paid a fine of ten dollars and departed.

A. W. Hames, who was pulled in by Motorcycle Officer Alcorn, told the court that he was not in a machine that day. He assured the court that he was not the man that the officer was looking for.

Prosecuting Attorney Brown, admitted that Mr. Hames was the wrong man. Brown therefore entered a nolle prosequi in his case which was granted by the judge. Will Thomas, who also drove his automobile in a public street, heedlessly of the safety of others, paid a fine of ten dollars and costs of court.

Max Alfonso, who burglarized Captain McClery's headquarters at Fort Shafter, reserved his plea in police court today, and asked that he may be permitted to consult a lawyer.

Judge Monsarrat was of the opinion that the court did not have the jurisdiction to try the defendant, as the act was committed in a military reservation of the United States government. The matter was put over until September 22.

COMPANY FEARS THE MEN

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 2.—Officials of the Gary Belt and Screw Company are in a predicament. About October 1 they expect to hire 500 women and girls to work in a new factory now in the course of construction. As there are not fifty unemployed women in Gary, it will be necessary to import the 500.

But the demand for wives in Gary is five times the available supply. The proportion of males and females in the town is 2 to 1. New feminine arrivals are usually the subjects of proposals before they have their grips fairly unstrapped.

Consequently the company appears to be confronted by the alternative of acting as a matrimonial agent on a large and unprofitable scale or discovering some novel way of preventing marriageable women from getting married.

ACCOMMODATIONS
GO A-BEGGING

Five large steamers are to depart from Honolulu for San Francisco between Friday and the first part of October, and judging from the meager list of applicants for transportation, there will be a painful dearth of first-class passengers to fill the large number of empty staterooms.

The Pacific Mail liner Siberia, which left the port for San Francisco last Saturday evening, had several fine cabins without a single passenger. The vessel could have accommodated one hundred and twenty-five passengers, and barely sixty persons availed themselves of the superb accommodation to be found in this class of vessel.

The Pacific Mail steamship China is due to sail for the Coast on Saturday morning, and while the ever-popular steamer has room for between forty and fifty passengers, hardly a score of applicants have been registered at the office of H. H. Hackfeld & Co., the local agents.

The Matson Navigation steamer Lurline, which has on one or more occasions left the port with over fifty passengers in her staterooms, will in all probability sail for San Francisco on Tuesday next with a distressingly small list. Today barely half a dozen persons had registered at the office of Castle & Cooke, and as the list looked for the China is a small one, the indications point to the Lurline drawing but few travelers.

At the present time less than fifty people have booked passage with H. Hackfeld & Co. for the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria, which is scheduled to depart for the Coast on September 29. The list of names now on file do not represent possible patrons by any manner of means, for in many instances the same names are to be found enrolled at all three principal shipping offices of the city.

Inquiry made at the Oceanic agency today indicated that the Sierra, with ample accommodation for two hundred and twenty-five cabin passengers, would leave the port on her next voyage to San Francisco, October 4, with less than one hundred passengers. About fifty passengers have thus far booked by this vessel.

The Matson Navigation steamer Wihelmnia is to sail on October 11, and though bookings are made far in advance for this steamer, there are but a few prospective travelers on the list and there is a lively prospect that some of these will back out before the liner departs for the Coast.

The woeful lack of passengers to fill the empty cabins of trans-Pacific liners at this time of the year is a matter of much concern to shipping agents, who had looked for better business at this season of the year.

BRUISED AND BATTERED BY HUSBAND, GETS DIVORCE

Because of the fact that John Manoua, husband of Hattie Manoua, beat her with great cruelty, a divorce was granted this morning in the circuit court by Judge W. J. Robinson.

The woman states that during several months in 1910 her husband, struck her, kicked her and called her vile and inappropriate names until she became fearful of her life. Also during a drunken rage he struck and bruised her and drove her from the home. Since then he has failed to support her and the little three year old child, Hattie.
